Jackson Hurls Classic as Narberth Wins Two

Brookline Bows, 7-0, in No-Hit Game; West Phillies Lose, 8-1

REAL RACE IN LEAGUE

By TKC
Narberth won two rather easy Main Line League games last week-end over the West Phillies 8-1 and the feature game Sunday when Johnny Jackson pitched no-hit, no-run ball to win from Brookline, first half champs, 7-0.

On Saturday Al Hermann, in his usual fine form, had an easy day in allowing the West Phillies only five hits and one run scored in the fourth chapter. The Narberth batters pounded rival pitcher Martini for 12 safe blows scoring one in the second, another in the third, two in the fourth, one in the seventh and winding up with a barrage of three runs in the eighth.

"Shrimp" Ralston, first up in the eighth, worked Martini for a free ticket to first base, Johnny Brennan singled, but was put out on Jack Eachus' fielder's choice play with Ralston scoring. Gavin drove out a hard double scoring Eachus and scored himself when Tanny Ralston continued the drive with a single, in all three runs before Martini could get things under control.

On Sunday, against Brookline, Johnny Jackson pitched superb no-hit, no-run ball with only three rivals battling each inning. The perfect game was marred only by a miscue on a flyball by centerfielder Harry Fox, when he galloped all the way up to within a few feet of second base for the catch only to lose possession of the ball after he once had his hands on it. It was in the first inning and the player, safe on the error, was quickly retired via the double play route Tanny Ralston to Gavin to Walker thereby allowing only 27 Brookline batters at the plate for the entire game.

In adding up Narberth's seven runs, the first came in the initial inning on singles by Gavin and Walker. Three more came in the second and another in the third when the Brookline threw the ball all over the field while Harry Fox, who had reached first on a fielder's choice, went all the way home before the rivals could get hold of the ball tightly. Narberth added the final two runs in the sixth on Brennan's single and Gavin's home-run, which rightfielder George Severn lost in the sun.

Severn, who is also Brookline's ace pitcher, started the game on the mound and it appeared as though another tight battle was at hand, but his arm was not right and he left the mound at the end of the first in favor of a young lefthander, Vallette. Although Vallette pitched fairly well, his teammates' support was not up to par and he could not equally balance with the Narberth batters. "Buddy" Walker had a grand and perfect day with the stick for 1.000 average. In three times at the plate he had three clean singles.

Manager Davis announced that all the remaining Saturday and Sunday games would be at home. It is a real race for the second half pennant and the right to meet Brookline, first half champs, in the playoff and the fans.

Boy Scout Notes

Main Liners Win Honors

The Wynnewood Troop of Boy Scouts were hosts to the Main Line Court of Honor and the Board of Review at their headquarters in the Narberth Presbyterian Church last Tuesday night. Scouts were welcomed to the church by W. A. Fox. The meetings took place under the general direction of Ridsen Wenrick, scout executive for the Main Line, assisted by C. B. Clippsham, chairman of the Court of Honor, and W. F. Hogan, Jr., chairman of the Board of Review.

Four boys demonstrated their proficiency before the board to receive advanced ranking in their troops. Harry David and Grant Olewiler, both of Cynwyd Troop No. 2, received the rank of Second Class Scouts. L. H. Fielding Howe, Jr., of Merion Troop No. 2, and Alex McClintock, of Wynnewood Troop No. 1, became First Class Scouts.

In the Court of Honor, twenty-three awards were given to eleven scouts. Recipients of Merit Badges were: Wynnewood, Charles Synder, electricity, automobiling, scholarship, zoology; Edward Engelhardt, forestry, zoology, scholarship, soil management; Donald Love, bird study, bugling; William Haywood, metal work, wood work; Merion Liberty Troop, Fred Dunlap, personal health, civics, public health; Paul Blakeman, swimming, civics; Russel Belfield, life saving, athletics; Ardmore No. 3, Guy L. Cornman, safety; Grant McCabe, woodcarving; Edwin G. Rourke, Jr., star rank; Merion No. 2, Samuel J. Bunting, first aid.

Among scouters assisting in the proceedings were W. A. Fox, Nelson Strang, L. H. Fielding Howe, C. H. Harot, F. M. Robb, Jr., William Martin, G. L. Detweiler, John Wilson and George H. Mahl.

Swimming Meet for Scouts

Another swimming meet, planned by the Main Line Activities Committee, will be held in the pool on the estate of D. E. Scherbinin, Lafayette road, Villanova, August 27. Both swimmers and non-swimmers will have a chance to compete.

Blaze Destroys Truck, Automobile, 30 Hens

Flames Burn Up Garage, Spread to Chicken House in Penn Valley

TWO COMPANIES CALLED

Flames early Saturday morning destroyed the garage and henhouse on the premises of Daniel Tinney, 515 Woodbine avenue, Penn Valley, and also caused the loss of a truck and a passenger car. Another automobile was saved.

Patrick Fullerton, 45, a laborer, narrowly escaped injury. He was sleeping in the garage and discovered the blaze.

The Narberth Fire Company was called, but before its arrival the flames had spread to the chicken house, causing the death of about thirty chickens. The firemen succeeded in keeping the blaze from igniting Tinney's residence. The damage was about $2000.

The Union Fire Association of Bala-Cynwyd was also summoned, but its members did not get into action.

Early Tuesday flames destroyed a garage roof and damaged a sedan at 219 West Wayne avenue, Narberth. Owner of the garage, Charles Haywood, was aroused by his milkman, Clifford Stalker, of Bala-Cynwyd. The two fought the blaze with a garden hose until the Narberth Fire Company arrived. The sedan is owned by Edwin McDermon.

Water Company Ends Penalties on its Bills

Philadelphia Suburban Instead Will Allow Discounts for Early Payments

SAVES PUBLIC $125,000.00

Beginning September 15, the Philadelphia Suburban Water Company announced Wednesday, all delayed-payment charges, or so-called penalties on bills, will be abolished.

The company will instead inaugurate a policy of allowing a 5 per cent discount on all quarterly bill payments made within fifteen days of the time they are rendered.

It is estimated by the company the combined plan will effect a cash saving to its water users in Delaware, Montgomery and Chester Counties of about $125,000 annually.

Plans to consummate this saving have been under consideration for some months and after conference with the Public Service Commission it was adopted with the endorsement of that body.

The company points out the new plan extends the present liberal bill payment practice under which water is furnished customers for three months without advance payment; about three weeks in addition are allowed before the bill is construed as delinquent.

Republican Women Listed as "Dollar Certificate" Aides

Local members of the Lower Merion-Narberth Council of Republican Women listed as aides in the London-Knox Dollar Certificate campaign by Mrs. John Y. Huber, Jr., Haverford, council president, include:

Narberth—Mrs. Louise V. Cockrill, Mrs. Sabina Tyson, Mrs. Margaret W. Griswold.

Merion—Mrs. Frances E. Pettinos, Mrs. J. J. Foulkrod, Jr.

Overbrook—Mrs. John G. Clark, Wynnewood—Mrs. Fred T. Chandler, Jr., Mrs. Thomas G. Ashton, Miss Mary Jefferies.

Penn Valley — Gertrude Green, Mrs. John V. B. Duer.

Cynwyd—Effie G. Lincoln.

Mail Service Survey

Postmaster Joseph L. Kelley has received a questionnaire from Washington to be filled out relative to extending mail delivery from the Narberth postoffice to the area bounded by Montgomery, Bryn Mawr and Woodbine avenues, Penn Valley. The Penn Valley Association recently requested this service from the postoffice department.

In one of those wide-open tilts Tuesday night at Narberth, Buck Lai's Hawaiians made 19 hits, 13 runs, against Gene Davis' Main Line Leaguers' 13 hits, 6 runs.

Rotarians Shown How News Middle Man Works

The middle man of the news is the telegraph operator, John W. Inwood, of Haverford avenue, Narberth, told members of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club at their weekly luncheon meeting Tuesday in the Overbrook Golf Club.

Regardless of how news originates, it is the telegraph that spreads it far and wide, he said. Mr. Inwood, a Western Union official, demonstrated telegraph equipment, sending and receiving. Members sent messages from the room and almost instantly received them a few feet distant.

Mr. Inwood also related interesting statistics concerning the coverage of the Democratic Convention and the Hauptmann trial.

James P. Carroll, past president, presided.

Accused Bandit Trio Held for Court Without Bail

Peter Bernardo, Joseph Dob and Leslie E. Clark, all of West Manayunk, were held without bail for court this week by Magistrate Francis Bobenreith, of Conshohocken, on charges of robbing gas stations in Narberth and Plymouth Meeting.

Two of the men were again identified by Walter G. Case, owner of the gas station at Montgomery and Woodbine avenues, Narberth, as the bandits who held him up and robbed him of $75 on the night of July 31. Lieutenant Walter Brown, of the Lower Merion police force, who has a confession from Clark, also attended the hearing.

Conshohocken police captured the three men following a gas station robbery at Plymouth Meeting August 3.

Grand Finale of Dell Season Next Week; Extra Concert for Unemployed Musicians

Bringing to a conclusion Robin Hood Dell's most brilliant summer season the men of the Philadelphia Orchestra offer music lovers a final series of programs of unexcelled merit.

Topping the week will be the presentation on Monday and Tuesday nights (August 17 and 18), of Verdi's opera, "Aida."

The second highpoint of the week's program has been arranged for the Wednesday concert, not usually scheduled.

With Jose Iturbi, who has endeared himself to Philadelphia's music public as principal conductor this season, on the podium, the orchestra will offer Beethoven's Ninth Symphony in D minor as the 14th selection in Mr. Iturbi's Beethoven cycle.

In the choral parts, Margaret Harshaw, Narberth contralto, Eugene Lowenthal, and Rose Dirrman, lyric soprano, will appear as soloists and also with 125 members of Strawbridge & Clothier's augmented chorus.

Thursday night has been chosen by Mr. Iturbi as an all-request evening, with the program including Brahms Symphony No. 1, in C minor.

Although the season officially closes with the Thursday night performance, the men of the orchestra will offer a benefit concert on Friday evening, with Alexander Hilsberg conducting. Proceeds from this extra concert will be donated to the unemployed musicians of the city. Every worker at the Dell will contribute his services without charge.

On this Sunday evening (August 16th) David Madison, a member of the violin section of the orchestra, will appear as soloist in the presentation of Rimsky-Korsakoff's "Scherzade."

School Exhibit at Library

The Narberth Community Library is exhibiting the art work of summer pupils at the public school. There are several colorful and pleasing murals showing child life in foreign lands, or illustrating the work of English and history classes. In addition to the murals, the children have executed a model of the desert, soap sculpture and finger painting.

The library also announces the arrival of the summer installment of the International Mind Alcove, as follows:

"Finland," Agnes Rothery.
"Mexican Interlude," J. H. Jackson.
"Aerial Odyssey," E. Alexander Powell.

"Liberty vs. Equality," W. F. Russell.

Around Our Town

We were very proud to read in the Philadelphia Inquirer, Girard's account of the prowess of the Lower Merion police force. In fact, we were so proud of our sharpshooters that we decided to reprint the item, which appears below (just in case any bandits among our readers may have missed it in its initial appearance).

Calling all bandits:
Better beware of those crack shots on Lower Merion's police force.

They have just out-shot 17 other police teams representing three States.

Let him take deliberate aim, and Brady Utz hits the bulls-eye at every shot—he did that in the contest.

His companion, Lance Hathaway, firing 10 shots in 20 seconds, scored a 98 out of a possible 100.

And Captain Percy Coffin, firing 10 shots in 10 seconds, made a 96 out of a possible 100.

They're really quite a versatile lot, these stalwart minions of the law of

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hall

See Home From Hindenburg

While Main Line folk saw the German airliner Hindenburg from their grounds last Saturday, one Main Line couple saw their grounds from the Hindenburg.

The couple, first husband and wife to make the trip from Germany, are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Hall, of Merion. Mr. Hall, who is president of the Merion Civic Association, expressed himself as delighted with travel via the airliner.

It was as a courtesy to the Merion couple that Captain Ernst Lehmann flew the Hindenburg over the Main Line on its way to the Lakehurst, N. J., hangar.

Fellow passengers of the Halls included Max Schmeling, who hopes to regain his heavyweight title when he fights Champion Jim Braddock September 18; Douglas Fairbanks and Mrs. Fairbanks, the former Lady Sylvia Ashley.

Residents Pay Heavy Penalties on Repairs

Added Charges More Than Twice Amount of Work's Cost

SHORT COUNCIL SESSION

Penalties, $156.45, added to the bills of thirty-two Narberth property owners for sidewalk and curb repairs ordered by Borough Council were more than twice the actual charge made to Narberth, $69.15, by private contractors. This was brought out in Highway Committee Chairman Robert F. Wood's report read by William H. Durbin, committee member, at the August meeting of the councilmen. The bills were approved for collection.

The Elm Hall meeting, which required just forty minutes, was attended by a quorum of four councilmen, President William H. Fretz, Mr. Durbin, Eugene H. Davis and Roland Flier.

Borough Solicitor Henry A. Frye reported that settlement had been made August 7 for the property at 102 Conway avenue, bought at a cost of $6825 as an addition to the Narberth playground. A lease for the balance of this month for the property, containing a house, barn and lot, has been given to the present occupant, Joseph Donahue, for $1.

A request for a new gas range for the Girl Scout kitchen in the Community Building, made by the Women's Community Club, was taken under advisement by the Property Committee.

Mr. Davis reported that building during July amounted to six permits for a total estimated cost of $1415. They included a garage being built by L. C. Piercy, 116 Dudley avenue, $600, and alterations on five other residences. During July George B. Suplee, building inspector, made forty-five inspections.

It was announced that Edwin P. Dold, tax collector, had collected $5071.20 of the 1936 borough tax duplicate which totals $80,044.72.

The Highways Committee report also mentioned that street resurfacing has been completed on Forrest avenue from Haverford to Woodbine; Grayling avenue from Woodbine to Price; Narberth avenue from Haverford to Montgomery; Hampden avenue from Windsor to Woodbine, and Woodside avenue from Narberth to Chestnut. Hot oil and slag have been applied to each of these streets at a total cost of $992.20, of which $117.12 was for labor and $875.08 was for hot oil and slag.

The radius curb at the intersection of Wynnewood and Windsor avenues has been repaired and the grade of the sidewalk raised, at a total cost of $68.33.

The county completed the regrading of Essex avenue from Haverford to Montgomery several weeks ago. The top coat is now being laid.

Parochial Schools Will Open on August 31st

Local parochial schools will open August 31, it is announced by the Rt. Rev. John J. Bonner, D. D., LL. D., superintendent of the diocesan schools in the Philadelphia area. They will close on June 11.

County Is Spending $800,000 On Roads To Aid Unemployed

Started five years ago, before the costly birth of the extravagant WPA, the 1936 edition of Montgomery County's county-aid program is getting up full steam under the guidance of the county's Republican administration, its creator.

With projects started in 23 boroughs and townships throughout the county, laborers are being paid 40 cents an hour and earning a weekly wage of approximately $20, better than the WPA average.

Under the summer schedule, effective during July and August, the men work five days a week, 10 hours a day. The winter schedule provides for six days a week, nine hours a day, or 54 hours a week.

To obtain employment on county-aid projects, men are not required to be on relief rolls—they are not made "to sign a pauper's oath."

Preference is given to married men, men with the largest families and with the greatest social responsibility, according to County Commissioners William D. Ridgway, Fred C. Peters and James W. Potter.

The county, which pays 70 per cent of the cost of the projects, expects to expend about $800,000 on the program this year. The 30 per cent paid by local communities will bring the total outlay to near the million dollar mark.

During the five years the county-aid program has been sponsored, an average of about $900,000 has been spent each year—at no increase in the tax rate.

It has been the aim of the Republican-dominated board of commissioners to carry out the program on a sound, business-like basis—creating jobs for the unemployed, but giving the taxpayers a dollar's worth of permanent and worthwhile highway improvements for every dollar spent.

Ranger Lodge Boys Working Hard For Camp Medals; Enjoy Boat Trip

(Editor's Note—This is the sixth of a series of letters from the boys at Ranger Lodge, Casco, Maine.)

With but slightly more than two weeks remaining of the camp season, the boys at Ranger Lodge are planning and executing many of their favorite trips and working hard to gain enough points for the coveted camp medals.

Wednesday morning a group of thirty-one hardy travelers arose early to go to Portland for a boat trip on Casco Bay. They rode as far as Long Island on the boat, where they disembarked and journeyed to the beach on the ocean side of the island. The water was cold, but not cold enough to prevent Sib Lee, Dave and John Sellers, Hank Ludlow, and Fred Kohlloss from bathing at length. Not caring to stay in so long, Maurrie Carr, Dick Longaker, Teddy Herbert, Billy Ryan and Bob Townsend followed Bill Miller on a climb over surf battered rocks, while Dana Cahoon and Crow Ludlow wrote love letters in the sand. After an enjoyable day in the sun, the party returned to Portland after a ride of an hour's duration.

The barracks boys made the first trip of the year to Mt. Chocoma to scale its difficult heights. Led by Tom Griffith, Bob Matheys, and Ace Quinn, the party reached the halfway hut with nothing more than a few bruised shins and several ruffled dispositions. Here Griffith, in the lead, took the wrong trail and ably supported by Charley Herbert, Harley Anders, and Rolly Young, proceeded to blaze a new trail up the mountain. Before they realized their mistake, they had reached the top of an entirely different peak, which the camp has lovingly entitled "Griffith's Leap." Meanwhile Matheys and Co. had puffed to the correct summit and by loud cries, directed the wayfarers on to the blazed trail. After a brief rest and a welcomed lunch, the downward trek began and ended up with Dan Karcher, Cliff Roberts, and Bill Grugan dead-heating it for first place.

The senior ball team again downed the councilors by a two-run margin, this time the score being 14-12. Jumping on Pop Fowler's offerings for four runs in the first inning, the boys gathered a large enough lead to stave off the late attack of the staff. George Paine saved the day for Pitcher Len Jones with a fine running catch of Tom Griffith's fly with the tying runs on the bases. Bob Wood and Bob Smith hit timely for the councilmen, but the slugging of Bud Nold, Jimmy Dykes, Bob Collins, and Lew Reischer had set up too big a barrier to overcome.

Dick Narrigan and Bill Miller guided cabin one into a tie with Bob Allport's cabin four for the weekly inspection prize. The latter thus becomes the first group to snare the crown a second time. Richy, Phil and Maurie Carr, Rhys and Bill Thomas, Billy Young comprise cabin one's champions and Dick Longaker, Rusty DeBorio, and Bob Reed carry the standards of cabin four. Boyd Brodhead, Gordon Clausen and Fred Kohlloss gamely tried to keep cabin eight in the competition, but lost out on the final day.

Under the tutelage of Dana Cahoon, the Rangers have been shooting for the National Rifle Association medals. Fred Smith leads the pack, having already shot four, while Burton Davis and Johnny Heymann have gained three. Frank Dunnigan, Don Rheasa, Sib Lee and Bobby Paine have passed two tests and Charley Dykes, Harry Middleton, Willet Smith and Gordon Wilson are others who have snared trophies.

Bob Warwick, Ted Collins, Bill Grugan and Bob Rowley brought an old tennis ball to a swim one day and as a result a new game called water football, has been started. Regular rules govern play, except there is no limit to the field or the number of men participating.

The directors imported a movie projector Thursday night and turned the lodge into a theatre long enough to present "A Message to Garcia." Selected short subjects added to the show, a new feature in the annals of Ranger Lodge.

should not miss a single game as they all will prove important and interesting in the standings.

*Philadelphia newspapers called this a hit for McNally, Brookline third baseman. In the absence of an official league scorer, however, this newspaper's scribe has a right to his opinion on the play. Backing up TKC on the decision is none other than Brookline's Manager Fred Lucas, former Phillies outfielder, who told Manager Gene Davis, of Narberth, after the game that Jackson should be credited with a no-hit game. Manager Davis says the custom in such a case is to give the pitcher the benefit of a doubt just as a runner is slightly favored on a close play at first base. This newspaper concurs that Johnny Jackson pitched a "classic"—ED.

ours (with apologies to all Cliché experts). Among their other feats of daring we find horse-lassoing. Just the other day six of them played a prominent part in the dramatic return of 25 horses which escaped from their corral on C. C. Perkins' estate in Bryn Mawr. Thomas Shubert, riding his red "broncho-machine," lassoed the leader, a big chestnut gelding thereby bringing about the peaceable return of the whole 25.

Officialdom (county-aid, 'tis alleged) which decided the borough needed a coat of tar, used an economic method of distribution this week. Instead of hiring workers to apply the sticky stuff to all streets in the borough, a supply sufficient for coating all of Narberth was dumped on Essex avenue with the distribution job left up to the tires of automobiles and the shoes of pedestrians. The cars and walkers did well, spreading the tar elsewhere, even to sidewalks, stores, halls and homes. But it could have been worse. Suppose Chief Pow Wow, who spread his feathers at the Democratic convention and later in the War Department at Washington, hadn't been apprehended.

Rumor has it that we have some very fine fishermen in our midst. Last Wednesday, John A. Miller, president of the Lower Merion Rod and Gun Club, Dr. Edwin C. Town and Dr. A. J. McDuffee motored to Brigantine, N. J., for surf fishing. Miller caught a six-pound striped bass and three kingfish; Dr. Town, two weakfish, one kingfish; Dr. McDuffee, three weakfish. We wish to congratulate them all, and especially Mr. Miller since his six-pounder (and this is no fish story, either), is the first striped bass he has caught in 20 years of surf fishing. A. S. J.

Invitation Match Victor

Lower Merion Police team No. 1 captured an invitation match at the Frankford Revolver Club range, Philadelphia, Saturday, with a score of 1315. Lower Merion's No. 2 team was fifth, 1248, in eleven entries.

No. 1 team—Coffin, 283; Denson, 260; Coniskey, 245; Utz, 264; Hathaway, 263.

No. 2 team—Flynn, 232; Plumridge, 231; Wilson, 234; McLoughlin, 270, and Sparks, 261.

The team will take part in an invitation match at Teameek, N. J., this week-end.

"Hearts Divided" and March of Time—Narberth

Pleasing comedy drama with music is afforded by Marion Davies, Dick Powell and Charles Ruggles in "Hearts Divided" this week-end at the Narberth Theatre. The new March of Time is also on the program.

The Jones Family, who delighted those who saw "Every Saturday Night," are coming Monday and Tuesday in "Educating Father."

Wednesday, Narberth's prize night, the feature will be "The First Baby," starring Shirley Deane, Johnny Downs and Dixie Dunbar.

Eugene O'Neil's beautiful, heart-stirring play about adolescence in the Nineties, "Ah! Wilderness," will return Thursday, with Lionel Barrymore and Wallace Beery heading the superb cast.

To end the week, Jessie Matthews and Robert Young are coming in "It's Love Again."

"The King Steps Out" is at The Egyptian

Tuneful and gay, "The King Steps Out" at the Egyptian this Friday and Saturday. Grace Moore sings Fritz Kreisler's "Caprice Viennois" and "Stars in My Eyes," "Click Your Heels," "Madly in Love," "The End Begins," etc.; the able supporting cast is headed by Franchot Tone, Walter Connolly, Raymond Walburn and Elisabeth Risdon; and Josef von Sternberg directed it.

Monday and Tuesday, mystery, music, romance, thrills and comedy will be given by "Fatal Lady," whose stars are Mary Ellis, Metropolitan soprano, and Walter Pidgeon, John Haliday, Alan Mowbray and Norman Foster.

"The Case Against Mrs. Ames," Wednesday and (Bank Night) Thursday, is the Arthur Somers Roche story about a young society mother on trial for the death of her playboy husband and her fight for custody of their son, whose grandmother wants him. "Forgotten Faces," Friday and Saturday next, is an unusual story of father love, starring Herbert Marshall and Gertrude Michael.

BACK and FORTH

It may be the seashore or the mountains, but your commuting days for this season are probably numbered. Now that you have become accustomed to new things, new faces and new entertainment, have you given any thought to a place in your home where you will want to continue meeting the many new friends you've made during the Summer, as well as your associates of long standing.

One real place in which to entertain is in the Basement after it has been given our individualistic touch. Why not arrange to have us "do something" about it before you come home to stay.

WATER BOUNDARIES

The Indians who lived in this region camped along the rivers and streams. Many of the old Indian names of these watercourses survive today. We have Perkiomen, meaning a place where there are cranberries; Pennypack, meaning a body of water with no current. Wissahickon signifies a catfish stream, and Tolticon, a driftwood stream.

When the Indians traded land they described the properties by these water boundaries. In one deed with William Penn they agreed to sell the land between the Schuylkill River and Chester Creek, from Conshohocken westerly to the creek. In another deed they gave up their right to all the land from Duck Creek to Chester Creek along the west side of the Delaware River.

In the same way today our township, county and state lines are often marked off by rivers or streams. The Schuylkill River divides many townships; Cobbs Creek divides Philadelphia County from Delaware County; the Delaware River divides Pennsylvania from New Jersey.

How odd it seems to us today, that the Red Men traded vast areas of land in our beautiful and productive region for such commodities as "one barrel of beer... thirty pewter spoons... one skip salt, thirty pounds shugar... one hundred jaise harps."

Westminster Circle Pays Tribute to Late Member

At the Executive Committee meeting of the Westminster Circle of the Narberth Presbyterian Church on Tuesday the following resolutions were adopted:

"Whereas, it has pleased almighty God in His divine mercy to take unto Himself our beloved friend and sister, Mary Dotzenroth, and remove her from our midst; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That it is but a just tribute to the memory of the departed one to say that in regretting her removal from among us, we mourn for one who was in every way worthy of our love and esteem;

"Resolved, That in the death of Mary Dotzenroth we recognize that the Westminster Circle has lost a true and faithful friend;

"Resolved, That in their bereavement we tender the family of the deceased the sympathy and friendly feeling of our circle, and that with them we mourn our mutual loss;

"Resolved, That as a mark of esteem a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased and inscribed on the minutes of this circle.
